

Brandy (You're A Fine Squirrel)- Looking Glass

INTRO:

Am / / / | F / / / | Am / / / | F / / /

C / / / | G / / / |

[F] do do do, [C] do do do, [Dm] do do do, [G] do

There's a [C] port on a [F] Western [Am] bay
And it [Dm] serves a hundred [Bb] ships a [F] day
Lonely [C] sailors pass the [F] time a-[Am]way
And [Dm] talk a-[F]bout their [C] homes

And there's a [C] girl in this [F] harbor [Am] town
And she [Dm] works layin' [Bb] whiskey [F] down
They say [C] Brandy fetch a-[F]nother [Am] round
She [Dm] serves them [F] whiskey and [C] wine

The sailors say [Am] Brandy you're a [F] fine girl (you're a fine girl)
What a [Am] good wife you would [F] be (such a fine girl)
Your [C] eyes could steal a [G] sailor from the [F]sea*
(do do do, [C] do do do, [Dm] do do do, [G] do)

[C] Brandy wears a [Em] braided [Am] chain
Made of [Dm] finest silver from the [Bb] north of [F] Spain
A [C] locket that [Em] bears the [Am] name
Of the [Dm] man that [F] Brandy [C] loves

He [C] came on a [Em] summer's [Am] day
Bringing [Dm] gifts from [Bb] far [F] away
But he [C] made it clear he [Em] couldn't [Am] stay
No [Dm] harbor [F] was his [C] home

The sailor said [Am] Brandy you're a [F] fine girl (you're a fine girl)
What a [Am] good wife you would [F] be (such a fine girl)
Your [C] eyes could steal a [G] sailor from the [F]sea*
(do do do, [C] do do do, [Dm] do do do, [G] do)

Yeah [Am] Brandy used to [C] watch his eyes
When he [F] told his sailor's [G] stories
She could [Am] feel the ocean [C] fall and rise

She [F] saw its raging [G] glory
But [Am] he had always [Bb] told the truth
Lord he [Am] was an honest [F] man
And [C] Brandy does her [G] best to under-[F]stand*
(do do do, [C] do do do, [Dm] do do do, [G] do)

At [C] night when the [Em] bars close [Am] down
[Dm] Brandy walks through a [Bb] silent [F] town
And [C] loves a man who's [Em] not a-[Am]round
She [Dm] still can [F] hear him [C] say she hears him say

[Am] Brandy you're a [F] fine girl (you're a fine girl)
What a [Am] good wife you would [F] be (such a fine girl)
Your [C] eyes could steal a [G] sailor from the [F] sea*
(do do do , [C] do do do, [Dm] do do do), the [G] sailors say

[Am] Brandy you're a [F] fine girl (you're a fine girl)
What a [Am] good wife you would [F] be (such a fine girl)
But my [C] life, my love and my [G] lady is the sea*
([F] do do do, [C] do do do, [Dm] do do do, [G] do) [C-end]

Brandy (A Fine Squirrel)

*The "do do do" line overlaps with the word "sea" on the preceding line. It would be cool if some folks stop singing just before the "do do do" so both the word "sea" and the "do do do" can be sung at the same time.
